Vol.13

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

No.4

Byfield, Mass.. The writer narrates the circumstances which resulted in the writer's drafting of resolutions passed by the Byfield Female Anti-Slavery Society and apparently published in the Liberator. The pro-slavery minister lectured the writer for hours on her improper conduct in the Anti-Slavery enterprise; this prompted the writer to lay the matter before her society and to draft the resolutions. Approves of the plan for weekly contributions, but the Byfield society is still too small and too poor to carry it out and, being in want of information, has pledged itself to spend the year's money on lectures.

New York. Discusses the plan of a man named Rose to emancipate the slaves. Wants S. J. M. to go and see him. A letter from J. R. Dailey in Liberia "describes the last year as one of great mortality ..." He says that he and Russwurm want to return to the U.S. on account of their health. "The Colonization scheme is perishing in its own foolishness & sin ..." A.L.s. 3 p. 9 5/8 x 7 3/4 in.

New York: Accepts an invitation to a convention in Providence. "So it seems that we may be refused the right of petitioning Congress." Thinks that this will bring Northern support to the Abolitionist cause. "The Lord has carried Dear Brothers Garrison, Thomson & Tappan through much tribulation this season ..." Mentions "an awful catastrophe in this city." People may think it is a judgment of God for their sins. "Brother Tappan is in fine spirits preparing for a new store to be built ..."

May 11 Newman, Francis William 1806-1897

To Epes Sargent 1813-1880

[London] Thinks it weak Christian principle to deprecate Justice for sake of mercy. Compared hidden power of crown through ministers over Parliament and India with irresponsible power of President over Johnson over Louisiana so long as no state government exists.

Newman, Francis William 1805-1897

To Epes Sargent 1813-1880

[London] Has finished his review of Count Gobineau. Thinks Rawlinson's etymological approach justified, but claims his Semitic readings obscure true [Indo-European] forms. Thinks permission by Johnson for 88 senators from South to take their seats will lead to violence.

To Epes Sargent 1813-1880

Bristol. Thinks Thessaly, Epirus, and Crete may be joined to Greece as result of Turkish war against Christians. Prince Charles Hohenzollern to be King of Hungary but coalition of Danubian states of Bulgaria, Serbia, and Bosnia would make powerful Danubian Confederation. Germany to receive universal suffrage by grant of the king of Prussia. Will probably produce like demand in England. Deplores Johnson's traitorous attitudes, and denunciation of Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips, and Th. Stevens.

To William Lloyd Garrison

Craftsbury, Vt., Is convinced that "the principles of the N.E. Anti-Slavery Society are destined, ere long, to supercede, sic, the heretical philosophy of the Colonizationists." Tells of a conversation he had with Rev. Chester Wright of Montpelier, Vt., Secretary of the Vermont Colonization Society. Gave a lecture in which he advocated immediate emancipation of the slaves. Thinks that Rev. Wright will be in accord with the Garrisonians on immediate emancipation. LECTURED in Craftsbury to an audience which included ex-Gov. Samuel E. «New York.» Reports on a visit to Pennsylvania. The Standard has great favor with the abolitionists there; some even talk of uniting the Freeman with it, though the writer thinks such an arrangement most improbable. "They all agree that C.C.B. (Charles Calistus Burleigh) is not half as good an editor as lecturer. . . they are seriously talking of inviting Wendell Phillips to the editorial chair!" Comments on the Standard under Mrs. Lydia Maria Child's editorship; it is "a very agreeable paper... but I could wish it had in it more of the Liberator fire. It does not sufficiently expose the corruption of the Church ... Its agreeableness is attracting the support of some half-and-half, milk-and-water of abolitionists ... It is often complimented at the Liberator's expense... I don't want our papers to become too popular ..." However, as Mrs. Child "has the soul of an Old Organizationist," the writer is relieved of anxiety. Favors holding the 8th anniversary meeting of the American Anti-Slavery Society at Philadelphia. The writer will probably visit Ohio and Indiana in ten days. A.L.S. 4 p. 10 x 7 7/8 in.

«New York.» The writer has returned from a visit to two counties of Pennsylvania where he found a "revival of anti-slavery feeling," and the abolitionists "almost unanimously in favor of Old Organization." The letter is mainly concerned with the proposal to hold the anniversary meeting of the American Anti-Slavery Society at Philadelphia in December. The Executive Committee has instructed the writer to correspond with friends in different parts of the country to ascertain their opinions. The writer, favoring the plan, presents five reasons for his decision. The (Executive) Committee has requested the writer to  and collect funds in Ohio and Indiana, "particularly among the Quakers there."

«New York» The writer says that moving to New York has put an end to his "operations as a printer." Pecuniary reasons compelled him to take his present position. Sold his printing equipment to Andrews, Prentiss & Studley, the price to be paid in printed matter, so he would like to have the job of printing the Liberty Bell given to them. Praises S. H. Gay.

«New York. A letter about the printing of the Liberty Bell, which Andrews, Prentiss & Studley will do "in good style." They will render their bill to the writer, and if they should charge him more than they charged the addressee in previous years, he will pay the difference. Prentiss is a good Abolitionist. "Liberty Party is making a demonstration here just now, led on by J C Jackson and W. L. Chaplin."

New York: The writer regrets that he cannot be present at the Fair and recalls his intimate association with his Boston anti-slavery friends, alluding especially to the addressee's magnanimity. The beautiful articles which the writer encloses were made in Wilmington, Delaware, a slave state, by Margaret D. Gibbons, sister of James S. Gibbons. Asks that these articles be laid on the table of the Southwicks. Cassius M. Clay furnished his autographs at the writer's request. Clay will write for the Tribune. "If he does not fall into the slough of Third Party, he will yet do a great work for Freedom." The addressee's "Prophecy" was a most welcome contribution to the Tribune; suggests that she write for this paper, which has a circulation of 45,000. The writer is now exclusively employed in the editorial department.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

New York. The writer explains his publication of a paragraph from a letter sent him by Harriet Martineau in the National Anti-Slavery Standard. Sends a note which came with H. M.'s letter. Has heard that P. Pillsbury and S. S. Foster have become friends again. A postscript in pencil by the addressee says that H. M. paid no attention to a letter by W. Phillips which was briefly referred to in the letter itself.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

Anti-Slavery Office, New York: Notes from Harriet Martineau refer to some "step she has felt it incumbent on her to take." (Meaning not clear). "I take it the Committee cannot be so unwise as to discontinue her correspondence just at the moment when we are about to reap its fruits. I have a petty letter from Howland, for this week's paper." Discusses the "follies of Pillsbury and Foster" and Wendell Phillips's mistaken attempt to cover them. The writer explains his editorial attitude toward Foster. Thanks the addressee for the poems of Mrs. (Maria Gowen?) Brooks.

New York: The writer sends a copy of his sketch of Garrison, "as stereotyped for the New Cyclopaedia." Since neither of the editors appreciated Garrison and one affected to despise him, the writer was careful to observe the rules of the work, so as to prevent mutilation of the manuscript. Regrets that the sketches of Dr. and Mrs. Follen in the Cyclopaedia are "so meagre and unsatisfactory." Explains how this came about. "The Harper's Ferry affair ... absorbs the Standard as it absorbs the mind of the country ... The invasion was God's own earthquake, and Slavery trembles to its very foundations from the shock."

.New York. The writer thanks the addressee for some advice. Says that, with the exception of S. H. Gay, there is no one in New York who can supply him with information about the Anti-Slavery cause. "In regard to Dr. Pomroy, I was balancing between entire silence and just such a mention of his fall as you suggest. ... We had a good meeting at Dr. Cheever's church last evening ... As for Emerson, I have always thought him vastly overrated ..."

(New York?). The writer failed to receive a newspaper article and "the Abington proceedings" from the addressee. "Newspapers, not sent from the office of publication, are particularly liable to be lost" (in the mail). Was sorry to hear that the John Brown affair had not helped the collection of funds. Inferred from G. B. Cheever's remarks that he was very glad to have been on the same platform with W. Phillips, and that he will speak before the American Anti-Slavery Society in the Spring.

To "My Dear Friend" Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman No.43

New York. The writer is sorry that he cannot print the addressee's letter this week, when every inch of space must be kept open for Mrs.Child's report of the Subscription Anniversary. The addressee's letter shall be printed next week."The article you criticise is, of course, Mr.(Edmund) Quincy's..." The writer will keep the addressee's anonymity. Mr.(James Miller) McKim's letter this week is intended against the "leader" (by Quincy) "though less emphatic than yours." The writer believes that immense sums have been sent from Europe "to corrupt our press and mislead the people, and that a most terrible conspiracy has been formed to put down the Antislavery cause."

New York. The writer sent a letter to Wendell Phillips about his ideas in regard to the Anti-Slavery Standard. Wants Rev. May to see it. In it, the writer defends his actions in regard to the Cleveland Convention and certain other matters. Says he cannot please both the Lincoln and Fremont partisans. Asks Rev. May to extend the hospitality of his home to Mary E. Gage, a teacher of the freed slaves.

New York. The writer praises the Report of the Annual Meeting. Thinks the Anti-Slavery Standard should be continued until the final ratification of the Thirteenth Amendment. Subscribers and friends should be consulted on the question of whether to continue the Standard to the end of the volume. Says the withdrawal of Phillips and his friends reduced the receipts of the Antislavery Festival by $1200.

New York. The writer thinks the Anti-Slavery Standard should be continued until the ratification of the Thirteenth Amendment if funds permit. Believes that the Annual Meeting of the American Anti-Slavery Society would be more harmonious if the issue of continuance of the Society were settled beforehand. Says he has talked the matter over with Aaron Macy Powell at some length.

New York. The writer encloses Henry Ward Beecher's sermon. "I think, if our friends manage wisely, that we shall get a vote to dissolve; but I may be mistaken. W. P. Wendell Phillips will no doubt exert himself to the utmost" (to continue the American Anti-Slavery Society.) The writer tells an anecdote, presenting an analogy to the folly of some Abolitionists. Concludes that if "Phillips, P. P. Pillsbury, and the Fosters choose to wear the 'old clothes' of the American Anti-Slavery Society, after they are thrown away, let them."

New York. The writer does not intend to write a history of the abolition movement, but his own recollections of the first few years, "with a view to setting in a clear light the leadership of Garrison." Does not expect to cover more than the first ten or twelve years. Taking an apologetic attitude toward his own undertaking, the writer is disappointed that he could not persuade Garrison to write a series of autobiographical sketches. "(Edmund) Quincy ought to write the history. He is a writer of marvelous skill, and he understands both the facts and the philosophy of the movement."

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

Ashburnham, Mass.: The writer is worried about the Convention because of "the controversy which is going on in the City." Comments on the need for unity among Abolitionists. Asks where one can get "the appeal to the women of the nominal free states." They have had a very interesting lecture from Angelina E. Grimké on September 12th. Inquires if the Moral Reform Society in Boston is an auxiliary of the A M R (American Moral Reform?) Society in New York, and where the Illuminator is circulated.
